

OVERVIEW

This programme equips you with the know-how to work within investment banking, private equity, corporate banking or financial advisory services. You will also be able to take buy-side or sale-side research roles, or other investment roles in the financial industry. With this advanced, specialised degree, you will acquire in-depth knowledge of corporate decision-making in an international environment and learn how to assess acquisitions, manage cash flows or risks, and raise capital in financial markets. It will provide you with all the necessary competencies to create value in the corporate finance and banking fields.
